WHERE INSPIRED IDEAS MEET ALIGNED ACTION

INTUITIVE LAUNCHING

Listen to the audio lesson here: <https://soundcloud.com/jenn-scalia-1/mm-intuitive-launching/s-77bj3>

What feels good to do in the way of marketing your offer?

What doesn't feel good?

What calls to action simply feel like an extension of your message?

How would you like to invite people in?

Who would you love to call in? (irregardless of who is already in your community)

What does going ALL IN look like for you?

What feels draining and/or hard?

What would you love NOT to do (aka what can you hand off or outsource)?

First instinct (do not THINK): how long is your cart open?

First instinct (do not THINK): what do you want to charge for this?

What does your soul KNOW that your mind is trying to justify?

What can't you NOT do?

On a scale of 1-10, how in alignment do you feel about your offer?

On a scale of 1-10, how do you feel about your pricing/rates?

On a scale of 1-10, how do you feel about your "launch plan"?

On a scale of 1-10, how do you feel about the deliverables or deliverability of your offer?

What can you do to get up to a 10 in all of the areas above?

Brain dump: What do you NEED to say? What is the message that is dying to get out!
